Manager Commentary

As we discussed in last month's factsheet, March was a story of two tales. The positive leg where investors rolled up their sleeves in the first week in anticipation of the FTSE 2.0 inclusion and actively participated in the markets driving a lot of the names positively.

Come mid March, the Index was at its lowest points after many participants managed to offload their position and book profits as the myth of foreign investors buying directly from the market fizzled quickly.

Your Fund declined by 1.5% compared to the index which declined by almost 3.0%, a major out performance as we booked profits early and decided to wait for the dust to settle. YTD, the portfolio is up 1.0% and 1.4% while the index is down 0.4%

Towards the end of the month we began deploying the cash component we built in February in investments that we believe were oversold with the decline in general markets, and walking into April, we see many names outperforming their peers and the general index.

We expect our investments to report improved earnings on both QoQ and YoY basis as we approach 1Q earnings announcements.
